About IS 2180-5

Nice and flat on the wall. Nice and flexible too.

Large entrance areas leading into buildings of architectural finesse benefit in particular from automated lighting that points the way for night-time visitors or passers-by. Because this is where design's important too. The IS 2180-5 cuts an altogether superb figure on any wall. It also provides a wide range of setting options. For instance, coverage angle and reach can be adjusted to suit any specific situation at the point of use.
